Chapter 1

Anya is the girl I met in the extracurricular tutoring class. I've just got in this class and I was very shy. She is my desk mate, she is really kind and offered to be friends with me, and she introduced me to others. She's warm like sunshine.

Chapter 2

In fact, Anya was also very shy when she was a child, she always refuse to go on the stage in kindergarten performances because she felt very embarrassed. she doesn't know how to join into a group.

Chapter 3

I can tell Anya must have so many hairpins. She always wear some on her hair and she really love to collect different hairpins.

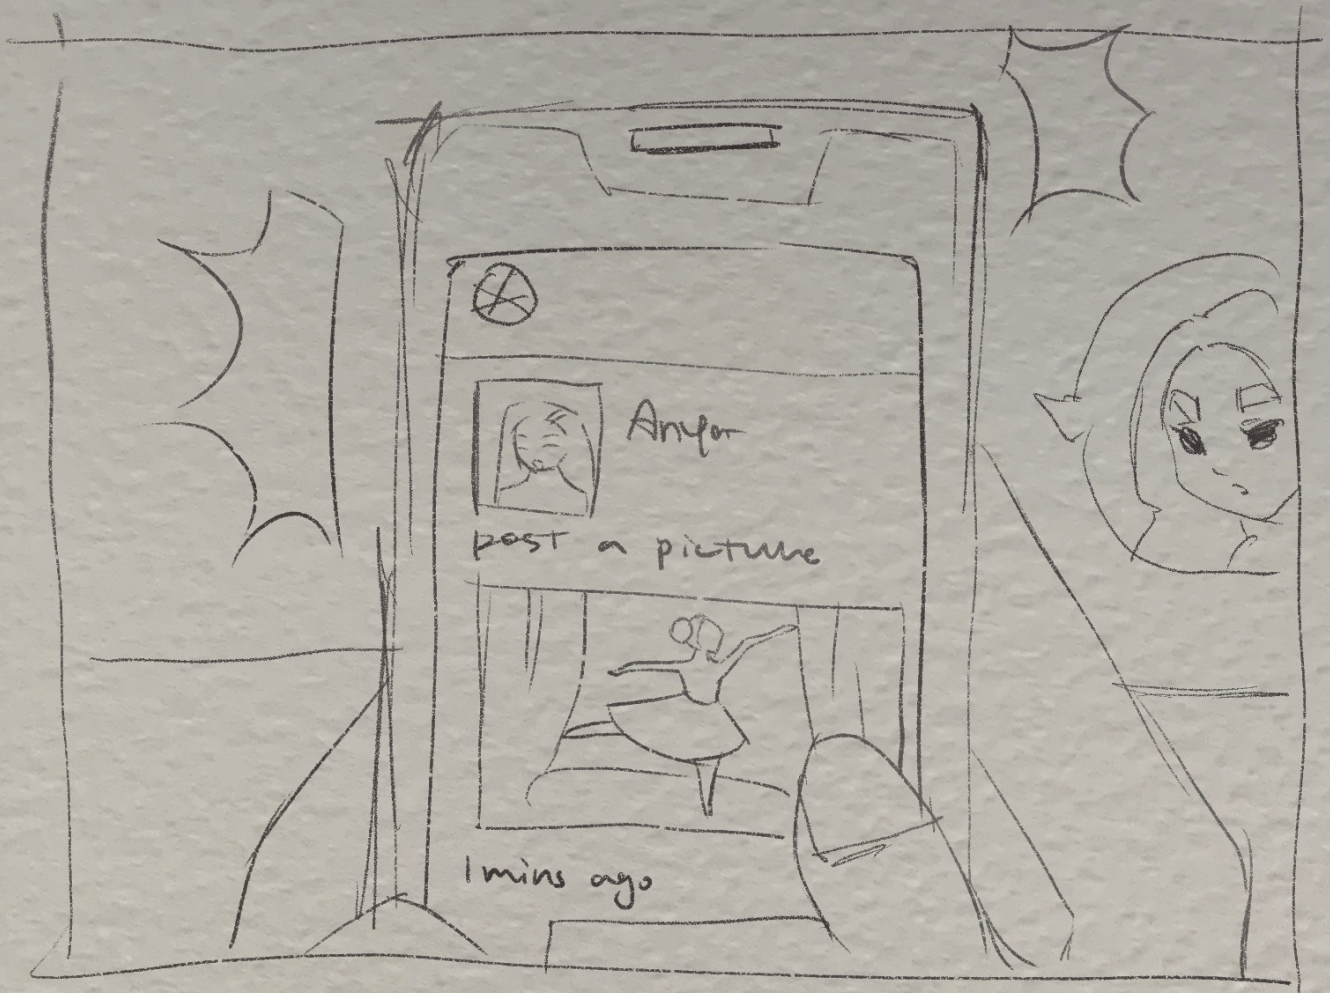

chapter 4

I heard Anya also had good friends in her high school. They ate together in cafeteria. She always ate boxed lunch brought from home. I also heard that someone said she is a good dancer. But I never see her dance.

chapter 5

Anya always takes care of her plants, in the leisure time. She treats them really carefully, she often talks to them, so she believes everything has spirit and all lives are equal in the world.

chapter 6

Until today, I saw Anya update her social media. She uploaded a picture of herself dancing ballet on the stage. It was very elegant, it suddenly occurred to me that her high school classmate said she dance very well. It turned out she may be a professional dancer.

chapter 7

Anya discussed with me that she wanted to see the aurora. So I thought of drawing such a scene for her. I know there are many regions with aurora. So I am also very vague with the plan she actually wants to travel.

chapter 8

The last time we met was when I went back to China. Anya was also having her vacation, I asked her to go shopping. she didn't change much from younger, but she said I changed a lot, we took some selfies and had a great afternoon.
